VIENNA'S ADVANCE IN PRICES SHOWS FIRST PINCH OF WAR

Zurich, Switzerland, Dec. 2.—After fourteen months, Vienna is beginning to realize the effects of the war, which hitherto had left little outward mark on the life of the Austrian capital. But in the past few weeks prices of food have advanced by leaps and bounds. Coal is becoming scarcer and dearer, just as winter is approaching.

Clothing has doubled in price; and, altogether, the immediate outlook for the great masses of the population is extremely dismal.

Much of the trouble is due to the army having taken nine-tenths of the strong, able-bodied laboring men from the city. Hardly any teamsters are left, and great quantities of flour, and provisions and coal are lying in the railway warehouses and yards, causing a serious congestion.

The situation is so serious that the city council is taking steps to use the municipal street railways for bringing goods to the storekeepers in the city. Switch tracks are being laid to the mills and railway yards, at a cost of sixty thousand dollars.

Another cause of the present high prices of food is the manipulation of speculators, who are hiding large stores of provisions, and so creating an artificial shortage in the markets. Immediately best fresh butter went up to $1.25 a pound—at which price nobody could buy more than a quarter of a pound at a time—large stocks suddenly came on the market and the prices fell at once to a dollar.

FALTIN WILL AGAIN BE SENTENCED TO DIE

SCNMIDT IDENTIFIED AS McNAMARA PARTNER

(Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 2.—Nora E. Haley, former stenographer for John J. McNamara, in the offices of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers, proved on cross examination by the defense in the trial of Mathew Schmidt, to be an unflinching witness yesterday against the alleged accomplice of the McNamara conspirators, who is charged with murder in connection with the destruction of the Times building here five years ago.

After identifying signatures of McNamara and other officials of the Iron Workers association to letters which will be used later by the state in an effort to establish the alleged conspiracy which resulted in the destruction of the Times plant, Miss Haley identified the handwriting in the body of the letters. Attorneys for the defense, seeking to test her memory hid signatures and superscriptions and demanded that the young woman who wrote the letters. Missing only twice in a dozen times, Miss Haley identified letters written by Eugene A. Clancy, of San Francisco; Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Ironworkers; J. J. McNamara, John T. Butler, of Buffalo, and Frank C. West, of New York.

VILLA GOVERNMENT IN MEXICO LOSING OUT IN ITS LAST STATE

(Associated Press)
EL PASO, Dec. 2.—Under an exterior of seeming tranquility, the convention, or Villa, government organization south of Juarez (its sole port of entry, apparently is disintegrating. Close observers point to the departure of functionaries, the shrinkage of territory without contest at the approach of Carranza forces and the suspension of foreign-owned industries as indications of disintegration.

Francisco Escudero, minister of finance, the last of the Villa officials to leave Mexico, is reported in Los Angeles; Miguel Diaz Lombardo, minister of foreign relations, is here, and Dr. Garza Cardenas, minister of Gobernacion, is reported in Arizona.

From an authoritative source it is learned the departments of government have been moved unofficially to Juarez, mail service south of that city has been suspended and a strict censorship is maintained.

While Governor Avila remains in Chihuahua City, it is generally understood the state practically is governed by General Manuel Ochoa, military commander at Juarez, and Col. Hipolito Villa, financial agent of General Villa. They hold in silence all plans of the Villa cause, collect its revenues and dispense justice in the absence of established courts. From reliable sources, however, it is understood they have determined to evacuate Chihuahua City in a few weeks, destroying all railroads and bridges in the northward movement to impede Carranza forces until the end of the racing season in Juarez.

Officials in Juarez admit the southernmost point controlled by any Villa forces is Santa Rosalia, about 100 miles south of Chihuahua City. According to the best information here Carranza forces are awaiting an opportunity to approach Chihuahua City from the vicinity of Minica, on the east; Santa Rosalia on the south, and Ojinaga on the west.
